The MPOWER Champions Program is a comprehensive one-year program for area organizations to become more sustainable. MPOWER Champions form a strategic “Green Team” to design/implement and measure projects related to sustainability. Sustainability Institute facilitates the program and provides coaching, education, resource matching, press/marketing and accountability.

Why would you like your organization to be an MPower Champion and how do you anticipate your organization benefitting?

If you already have an operating “Green Team” tell us about it; include how and when it began, what departments are currently represented, how often it meets, etc. If you don’t already have a “Green Team,” are you prepared to create one that is strategic with multiple members?
